EVERY PARENT SHOULD HAVE THIS BOOK
to help their kids face today’s tough moral issues

Give your kids a firm foundation

A generation ago, Christian parents didn’t have to worry about how to explain transgenderism to their nine-year-old, or help their teenager deal with mockery at school for believing in traditional marriage.

But today, as our culture’s moral center continues to fly apart and with every form of deviance publicly aired and celebrated, we have no choice but to equip our kids to understand and to own the truth about such issues.

It’s not easy, though—these are sensitive questions, and with the wrong approach we can harm our kids’ innocence even as we try to preserve it. In Made This Way: How to Prepare Kids to Face Today’s Tough Moral Issues, Leila Miller and Trent Horn give parents (guardians and teachers, too!) crucial tools and techniques to form children with the understanding they need—appropriate to their age and maturity level—to meet the world’s challenges.

Their secret lies in an approach that begins not with the Bible or Church teaching but with the natural law. In kid-friendly ways, Miller (Primal Loss) and Horn (Persuasive Pro-Life) help you communicate how the right way to live is rooted in the way we’re made. God’s design for human nature is a blueprint or owner’s manual for moral living that any child can grasp through reason and apply to modern controversies over sex, marriage, life... and the quest for human fulfillment.

Silence can no longer be an option. If we’re not teaching our children how to understand tough moral issues, then the world will. Read Made This Way and learn how to give your kids a firm foundation on which to build a life of moral clarity and happiness.

How to Cut Through Doctrinal Confusion & Understand What the Church Really Says

What does the Church teach about that? Sometimes this feels like a question with a hundred different answers. Getting to the heart of any particular question of doctrine or morals can be a challenge. This can lead not only to personal confusion but—increasingly in our day—conflict and disagreement among Catholics.

In Teaching with Authority, Jimmy Akin shows you how to get it all straight. Not another catechism or “Catholicism for beginners” book, Teaching with Authority isn’t about understanding specific teachings of the Faith (even the complicated and misunderstood ones) but rather about understanding Catholic teaching itself.

A unique, valuable, and long-overdue resource for all Catholics as well as those inquiring about the Faith, Teaching with Authority will help deepen your understanding of what the Church teaches by showing you (maybe for the first time) how and why and where it does.

Five Perspectives on Sex, Life, and Love in Defense of Humanae Vitae

As the Church and the world mark the fiftieth anniversary of Humanae Vitae, Catholic Answers Press presents an important new multi-contributor exposition of that prophetic encyclical: Inseparable: Five Perspectives on Sex, Life, and Love in Defense of Humanae Vitae.

Given the richness of Catholic teaching on the transmission of human life and the different ways—due to their temperaments, habits of mind, and life circumstances—that people respond to it, we asked our contributors to reflect on and defend that teaching from five perspectives: each of them compelling, all of them together forming a mosaic of truth.

Contributors include some of the most knowledgeable and incisive writers on these subjects today: Joseph Atkinson, Paul Gondreau, Mark Latkovic, Allan Carlson, and Shaun and Jessica McAfee.

His Eminence Raymond Cardinal Burke contributes the foreword.

The ONE BOOK
Here’s that book you can give anyone!

How can you believe all this stuff?
This is the number-one question Catholics get asked—and, sometimes, we ask ourselves. Why We’re Catholic assembles the clearest, friendliest, most helpful answers to give people and more.

“How Trent does a great job of selecting the most relevant and discussed beliefs about the Faith. Starts general with Truth and works through the existence of God, and then into Catholic details. Each chapter is brief, to the point, with an excellent bullet point summary at the end. Very well laid out. I’m tempted to buy a case and just pass them out to people to spread the Faith!”

— Reader John

“Catholic Answers has carried out a wonderful, apologetic ministry explaining, defending, and advancing the mission of the Church for many years. Trent Horn’s Why We’re Catholic is the latest and very useful tool in that work: clear, practical, simply organized, very readable, and rich in content. It’s a pleasure to recommend it.”

— Charles J. Chaput, O.F.M. Cap., Archbishop of Philadelphia

“Finally! A concise, courteous, and convincing book to hand to friends and strangers about the reasonableness of Catholicism.”

— Matt Fradd, Catholic apologist and chastity speaker

“With great clarity and charity, Trent Horn walks the reader through the most common objections and questions people have about Catholicism. Whether you’re a Catholic looking to deepen your faith or you’re curious about the claims made by the Church, you need to read Why We’re Catholic.”

— Jason Evert, author of Saint John Paul the Great: His Five Loves

How the Bible Led Me to Faith in the Trinity and the Catholic Church

Mark McNeil spent years in the Oneness Pentecostal movement: praying in its lively services, zealously spreading its unconventional teachings, and rejecting mainstream Christianity as misguided.

In All in the Name, Mark tells his story first of trading his conventional Baptist upbringing for the emotional buzz and fiery preaching of Oneness Pentecostal worship, and for the thrill of thinking that he was among an elite group of believers who followed the true faith where so many others had strayed.

A faith-strengthener for Catholics and an intriguing challenge to those who reject the Trinity, All in the Name is at once an inspiring human story of conversion and a powerful apologetic for orthodox belief in God, Jesus, and salvation.

How to Help the Spiritually Indifferent Find Beliefs that Really Matter

Sharing the Faith used to make some people mad because it challenged and clashed with their own strong beliefs. Today it makes a lot of people yawn—because they don’t have strong beliefs about anything.

Matt Nelson (ReasonableCatholic.com) says this religious indifference is the great spiritual sickness of our age—a product of the relativism that dominates modern culture.

In Just Whatever, Matt takes down the building blocks of religious indifference one by one. He looks at the three different kinds you tend to encounter in your friends and family members—and maybe in yourself!—to see where they come from and why they’re seductive. In their place he offers a compelling vision of a world in which it matters what you believe, who you worship, and where authentic truth and authority reside. And he helps you present that vision to others with clarity and love.

Books

Overcoming Obstacles to God, the Gospel, and the Church

Sharing the gospel with family and friends (or a stranger via the computer screen) can be challenging enough. When they won't even hear you out because of all the mental roadblocks they've built up, it's even harder.

In Prepare the Way, Karlo Broussard helps you tackle that essential first step to apologetics and evangelization: getting people to listen with an open mind.

Even our best witness can bounce right off folks like these if we don't prepare the way first, breaking down the barriers and leaving minds and souls free to encounter the truth. So Karlo gives you not just evidence and arguments but step-by-step strategies, based on asking the right questions, that you can use—along with prayer and gentle charity—to help them overcome their obstacles and make a straight path for the Lord.

Prepare the Way by Karlo Broussard

CB435  Softcover, 361 pgs  $16.95

Pious Misquotes and the Subtle Heresies They Teach You

“God helps those who help themselves.” “Preach the gospel always; when necessary, use words.” Sayings like these are such a part of modern pious tradition that we assume they come from the Bible, the mouths of saints, or the pens of famous Christian writers. In books, in homilies, and of course on the internet—they have acquired a halo of truth.

In What the Saints Never Said, Trent Horn (Why We're Catholic) takes more than forty of these well-known but dubious sayings and attempts to track them to their true source.

By setting the record straight, Trent does more than show you the true origins of these seemingly harmless sayings: he roots out the poison pills contained in them—theological errors and implications that can lead us away from the fullness of Christian truth. In their place he offers choice selections from the richness of authentic quotes from Scripture, saints, and scholars that will draw you closer to that truth.

Answering Twenty Centuries of Anti-Catholic Myths

Steve Weidenkopf (The Glory of the Crusades) collects more than fifty of the most common and dangerous lies about Catholic history and, drawing on his experience as a historian and apologist, shows how to answer them simply and powerfully. Whether it’s claims about Catholicism’s supposedly pagan origins, old myths about Galileo or the Inquisition that never seem to go away, or more modern misconceptions that anti-Catholics cynically exploit, The Real Story provides the desperately needed corrective.

Packed with research and diligent in pursuit of the truth, while never whitewashing or explaining away the Church’s past faults when they’re found, The Real Story of Catholic History is an essential resource for every Catholic’s bookshelf.

Is the Church Wrong on Contraception?

In a world that practically worships the pursuit of sexual pleasure, the Catholic Church’s teaching on contraception can seem unintelligible. Critics say it is outdated, harmful, and theologically unfounded and even faithful Catholics can have difficulty explaining this moral teaching.

Using natural law, Scripture, papal and magisterial teaching, and new insights provided by social science and medicine, Trent puts forward a compelling case with charity and persuasive graciousness.

As we pass the fiftieth anniversary of Humanae Vitae and critics continue to attack its reaffirmation of the Church’s teaching on contraception, this presentation will give you the tools to explain why the Church is unashamedly always on “the side of life.”
